

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

BRIGHT, TO SEE PHILADELPHIA

A BRILLIANT IDEA THAT'S NOT VERY

IN A WHOLE NEW LIGHT!!!!!!!!!!!!

DO BLUE!

DO BLUE is a public art campaign to award the Philadelphia region a "blue ribbon" for arts and culture and brand the city as an important art center. The goal is to manifest the support for art that exists in the area by asking individuals and organizations that think art is important to use the color blue to show it. Randy Dalton has been blue because the arts don't get the credit or the cash they need considering their importance in creating a vibrant society. He doesn't want us to be blue, he wants us to DO BLUE. He knows putting blue lights in windows, using blue paint and ink in decorating our environments, wearing blue clothes, and leaving swimming pool lights on all night on holiday weekends will create a festive atmosphere and command attention for Philadelphia art here and in the wider world. He wants you to help.

DON'T BE BLUE. DO BLUE.
